GENE DEBS TALKS OF SOCIALISM

Large Audience Listens to Lecture by Noted Leader

RAN ONCE FOR PRESIDENT

Boefore an audience that filled Coyle theatre, Eugene V. Debs, of Indiana, who made the race for President of the United States on the Socialist ticket the last Presidential election, lectured Friday evening. His subject was "Socialism and Revolution." Composed largely of people of the working class, the audience received his address with enthusiasm. Applause was frequent.

Mr. Debs was introduced by Louis Goaziou, editor of L'Union Travelleur When introduced he lost no time in piercing the core of his subject. He has a peculiar style of oratory. As tall as Lincoln and having a frame which somewhat resembles him, he made a good appearance. He said in part:

"These are stirring days for living men. The day of crises is drawing near. Socialists are doing all they can to prepare the people for it.

"Classes and class rule and their attendant progress and poverty, money and misery, turmoil and strife, are inherent in the capitalist system. Why? Simply because one set of men owns the tools with which wealth is produced, while another set uses them, and there is an irrepressible conflict over the division of the product. The capitalist owns the tools he does not use; the worker uses the tools he does not own. The capitalist system is no longer adapted to the needs of modern society.

"Steadily the number of class conscious toilers is increasing and higher and higher rises the tide that is to sweep away the barriers of progress and civilization.

"Let others talk about the tariff and finance—the enlightened workers demand the ownership of the tools of industry and they are building up the Socialist party as a means of getting them.

"The wo[illegible] alone made the tools; the [illegible]ass alone can

VESTA NO 1 MINE NEARLY WORKED OUT

Was Biggest Workings Along the River Ten Years Ago

EFFECT ON CHARLEROI

The Roscoe Ledger states that the Vesta No 1 mine at Vesta has almost finished up their coal at that place, and from present indications there will not be much more done there. It means that a number of men who have had employment at this mine will have to soon seek work elsewhere Charleroi business men will probably be affected more than any other, as the Vesta people did a great deal of their buying at Charleroi.

Ten years aga Vesta No 1 was the largest mine along the river, employing at one time in the neighborhood of 1,000 men. As the mine was connected by trolley with Charleroi pay day there meant a big volume of business to the Magic City. Gradually the mine was worked out, and California now is the biggest scene of operation of the Vesta Coal company.

PEDDLER GETS INTO TROUBLE

Tries to Sell Without License and Gets in Bad Predicament

An Italian peddlar, who said he was from New York City, got in a bushel of trouble Friday through his over desire to peddle in the borough without a license. Leaving his peddler's bag at a barber shop he started out with a few pieces wrapped in a paper. Before he had gone very far he was apprehended by Chief of Police Albright and taken to the police station. He said he didn't have a cent but when searched $23.25 came to light. At a hearing later before Burgess George W. Risbeck he plead guilty and was fined $5.00 and costs.

RETURNS AFTER STRENUOUS TIME AT THE CAPITAL

Assemlyman Feeney Made Record in Lower House

WORKED FOR MINE BILL

Assemblyman William Feeney has arrived in town for Harrisburg, where the Legislative session adjourned Thursday. Mr. Feeney is looking well and is glad to get home after the strenuous session. For a new man he made them all sit up and take notice, and as a representative of the labor and mining interests he figured prominently, and was the acknowledged leader on the floor in that respect.

Mr. Feeney made a gallant effort to get his mine certificate bill through and regrets that it was finally killed in the Senate. He also made a fight against the passage of the mine code, which he, as well as the miners in the bituminous field, together with the mine inspectors and fire bosses, considered were inimcal to the interests of the workers. This was passed, as Mr. Feeney expresses it, "in orders."

In addition to these labor measures Mr. Feeney was yrominent in other legislative matters, and made a consistent and conscientious effort to work for the interests of his constituents and the Commonwealht at large. He states that he is grateful for the assistance Governor Tener gave him in getting his mine certificate bill to receive the consideration it did.

MUCH WORK AHEAD FOR GOVERNOR

Over 700 Measures to Pass on Within Next Thirty Days

GOES ON BRIEF VACATION

Governor Tener left Harisburg Friday to spend a few days in Maryland and no bills will be acted upon before Monday. The Governor has 762 bills to dispose of within the next 30 days and plans to begin work the next week. The chairman of the Senate and House Appropriations Committees and a number of legislators will be at Harrisburg at various times during the next two weeks to consult with him, but it is likely he will not require the whole 30 days to clear his desk.

Most of the State officials left Harrisburg Friday to gain a few day's rest after the strenuous close of the Legislature, when bills affecting almost every one of the departments were acted upon. The legislators have gone to their homes with a few exceptions and the State Capitol is in the hands of a force of cleaners and repairmen who are going over all furniture in the legislative halls an committee rooms preparatory to closing up most of the rooms.

Special Lutheran Services.

There will be special services and special music at the 11 o'clock service tomorrow morning in the Christ Lutheran church. It is the second anniversary of the dedication of their beautiful church, and also the confirmation of a class of catecumens. The class will enter the church in a processional; the sermon will be addressed especially to these young people. It is a day which attracts considerable attention. The public will be welcomed to this special day

SOCIALISM.

In these days of popular discontent, business depression and insurgency the doctrine of Socialism offers many attractions to those on whom the ills and misfortunes of life press heavily. Add to this the corporate and capitalistic abuses that have prevailed in this era of frenzied finance, and the theory of succor for the weak, protection for the helpless, and restriction for the strong is attractive to thousands who toil hopelessly for others with no pleasure in the present or hope in the future. The presence in Charleroi last night of Eugene V. Debs, one of the great leaders of the propaganda, is evidence that Socialism has some most able, sincere and active exponents.

Delightful as Socialism is in theory, it is impossible to carry it out to the extreme in practice. The nearest approach to an application of its principles is the democracy which is made possible by the constitution of the United States. This is government by the people, protection for the weak and opportunity for all. The condition that would hamper and restrain the free and progressive development of every faculty with which the Creator has endowed mankind, and deny the right of the survival of the fittest is an attempt to maintain a dead level of condition, is at variance with the great plan of evolution, the destiny of the universe.

Corporate aggression and capitalistic abuses have done much to prevert the true principals of Democracy. They have violated in many instances their duties and responsibilities to the State, which is the people. This has aroused the conflict of the masses against the classes, as it is called, and the adjustment of this condition is one of the economic problems of the day. The question is a complex one, and in all probability will never be solved to the degree that will maintain an Utopian condition for all. The plan that would take away the incentive for thrift, industry, ambition and the ascendary of the master mind is as impossible as to atempt to change the law of gravitation.

CUTTING OFF ONE GRAFT.

Both branches of the Legislature passed the measure making it a penal offense for any man in the employ of a corporation, firm or individual to receive any valuable consideration for securing employment for an applicant seeking service under the same employer as the individual receiving the consideration. Speaking of this the Philadelphia Press says:

New York and Massachusetts have such laws and convictions have been had under both. A like statute exists in Great Britain. A royal Parliamentary commission took ample evidence in England to show that this offense was rife there, probably more rife than in this country, because the competition for eligible places is more severe.

But this particular form of graft exists in all countries where industry becomes complex, establishments large and employes are necessarily selected by subordinates. It is particularly true that immigrants speaking English imperfectly or not at all, seeking the opportunity to work not infrequently find themselves compelled to pay some one something to get their names on a pay-roll.

This particularly mean and disreputable form of graft will, when this bill is signed, render the grafter liable to indictment, trial, conviction and punishment. This practice richly deserves to be made a penitentiary offense. It betrays both employer and employed, it robs the weak and ignorant, and it demoralizes discipline. It is injurious to all concerned. It is not common. It rarely occurs, never in establishments vigilantly and efficiently managed; but there is just enough of it to make needful the enactment of the salutary statute.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

The average business man, says Dr. Holmes, violates every law of health and hygiene. He works too long, eats too much or too little, and the wrong food at the wrong time; doesn't sleep enough, wears the wrong sort of clothing, doesn't take enough exercise and drinks too many cocktails and smokes too many cigars. Worst of all he carries his business home with him, when it should be locked up in his desk. Dr. Holmes advocates an eight hour day for the business man.

Eggs or fish, with fruit and cereal, should constitute the business man's breakfast, says Dr. Holmes. Luncheon should consist of a substantial meat dish and it should be eaten slowly. Pie and sweets are tabooed. It is a mistake, declares the doctor, to go without luncheon or breakfast and make up for it at dinner time. Most men eat too much dinner.

The well known "tired business man," who in addition to his other troubles has to bear the responsibility for most of the alleged musical so-called comedies that are foisted upon the public, needs no longer be tired if he will follow the simple rules laid down by Dr. John F. Holmes, who recently took over the old Fordham hospital in New York and opened it as a general hospital. The novel feature of the new institution is a public course in hygiene for office men. According to the doctor, the ideal business day for the average business man would be something like this:

6.30 A. M.—Get up.
7:00 A. M.—Eat substantial breakfast.
8:00 A. M.—Begin work.
Noon—Eat substantial luncheon.
1:00 P. M. —Take a half hour walk.
1:30 P M.—Return to work.
5:30 P. M.—Take another half hour walk
7:00 P. M.—Plain but substantial dinner.
11:00 P. M.—Go to bed.

Women dress more sensibly than men during the hot summer months, asserts Dr. Holmes. Woolen suits should not be worn during hot weather. A linen suit, negligee shirt and soft collar will enable a man to work better and feel better.

AMONG THE THEATRES

The Palace—Charleroi.

A photoplay at the Palace Theatre this week that revealed a most pathetic sentiment was an Edison film entitled "In the Baggage Coach Ahead." The story was that of the young man riding in a Pullman car trying to comfort a baby that he has in charge. When the passengers inquire why he doesn't take the baby to its mother he sorrowfully informs them that she is in the baggage coach ahead—dead. Then the sorrowful story is unfolded, the happpy wooing and marriage, the birth of the babe and the death of the young mother. It was a most realistic creation and the subject brought tears to the many eyes, although it was not in the least harowing. "Napoleon in 1814" was another realistic film that pictured the horrors of war and the conscription that desolated many continental homes during the Napoleonic wars. "Sunshine and Shadow" was a graphic, but pretty story of slavery in the old south. Song features this week were "Lover's Leap" and "For All Eternity" by John Evans, while a pretty illustrated song by Louis Brusa was "When They Gather the Sheaves."

The Grand—Pittsburg.

The Harry Davis Stock Players are to begin their summer season at the Grand Opera House next week, where they will inaugurate their midsummer reign at that spacious and cool playhouse with the delightful comedy, "At The White Horse Tavern," which would seem to be an ideal bill for this event.. Two charming romances run through these various scenes in a double series of amusing episodes. One love romance is that between a young Berlin lawyer and the daughter of the irascible old inventor whom he has fought and defeated in the courts It is plain that the course of thir true love does not run smoothly, especially as they all get lodged under the same roof of the White Horse Tavern. The other courtship is that between the bright and cheerful hostess of the Inn, Josepha, a true maid of the Tyrol and her lovelorn head-waiter, Leopold who is exteremely jealous of all he favorite guests and whose life is made miserable by the coquettry and charm

These two roles of Josepha and Leopold will be the last characters in which Mary Hall and Albert Morrison are to be seen by their host of admirers. Miss Hall will take her farewell in this character of Josepha in which Anne Sutherland scored such a big hit in the original New York production, while Albert Morrison's goodbye will be said in the rich comedy of the head-waiter of the little tavern around which revolves all the charming fun of this idyllic and humorous play, which Sydney Rosenfeld adapted so skillfully from the original German drama by Blumenthal and Kadelburg.

The Professor's Mystery.

The Pittsburg Dispatch is giving its readers a series of delightful serials. It has been able to secure another big one, fresh from the press , full of Romance, Vigor, Action, Mystery and Sentiment. Just the thing for hot weather reading, it breathes the atmosphere of the ocean, the mountains the lakes ,the woods, with rapid-fire occurrences and startling climaxes, an absolutely unsolvable mystery and a love story intertwined that is sure to make you sit up and take notice. This novel, which will begin Monday morning, May 29, is "The Professor's Mystery," by Wells Hastings and Brian Hooker, and is breezier and better, even than "Are You My Wife?" or "The Phantom of the Opera," great novels already given Dispatch readers Why wait until a story gets old? Read The Dispatch and you have them fresh from the printing press. "The Professor's Mystery" is unique. The movement is strange the outcome unlooked for. Your curiosity is aroused in the first chapter and the mystery appeal is great. You are sure to like it. Surprise comes with every turn and the solutions knock out all your calculations. Begin with the opening chapters in The Daily Dispatch Monday mornig, May 29, and you will read every installment. And you will fall in love with Professor Crosby, with Miss Tabor with all the interesting characters that have been drawn true to life—not life in some historic age, but life this summer of 1911. Don't miss this rare literary treat.

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE

Charleroi People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are so unmistkable that they leave no ground for doubt. Sick kidneys excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or atended by a sensation of scalding. The back aches constantly, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighed down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnigs and there is danger of dropsy. Any one of these symptoms is warning enough to begin treating the kidneys at once. Delay often proves fatal.

You can us no better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Charleroi proof:

PATTI STOOD PAT.

The Diva Wouldn't Cut Her Rates, but Suggested an Alternative.

Patti once was waited upon at her hotel by a famous minstrel magnate, Colonel J H Haverly, whose ambition had been aroused to secure the diva for a concert tour under his direction. Madame received him most graciously, and the two began discussing the details

"May I ask your terms for fifty nights, Mme Patti?" Haverly asked.

"For concert or for opera?" the diva asked

"For concert," Haverly replied

"Four thousand a night, or $200,000 for fifty nights, one half to be deposited on signing the contract," was Patti's deliberate response

Haverly tried to appear composed but it was too much of an effort

"Two hundred thousand for fifty nights' Heavens madame, that is just four times as much as we pay our president of the United States'" he cried

"Well," the divine one answered. "why don't you get the president to sing for you?"

Haverly fled.—Robert Grau in Musical America.

A Man Who Knew Everything.

Thiers, the French statesman, was a victim of many whimsies None had stronger hold on him says Mgr. Gabriel Hanotaux in "Contemporary France," than his desire to get everybody to recognize his universal competency.

Of an applicant for the post of director at the Sevres manufactory Thiers said:

"He is no more made for that part than I for"— and then he stopped.

"Ah, oh' M Thiers," said his interlocutor, "you find it hard to say what you could not do"

"That's the truth! That's the truth!" cried the statesman gleefully

One day Thiers said, speaking of a man who had been raised to a high function·

"He is no more suited for that office than I am to be a druggist. And yet," he added, catching himself up, "I do know chemistry!"

Chinese Way of Trapping Eagles.

Every year thousands of Chinese go into Mongolia to catch eagles, the feathers of which are used for fans They employ tame eagles, which they carry on their shoulders, and at certain spots nests are arranged, within which are placed large quantities of kenyu, or small fishes. Soon other eagles join the tame ones, and the net is raised by hidden trappers some 500 yards away. But a small portion of the feathers are used for the fans, as only the largest are of use.—Chicago Tribune.

BAPTISTS AND PRESBYTERIANS PLAY TO DRAW

Best Exhibition of the Season and First Extra Session Affair

HITS NOT PROMISCUOUS

Absolutely devoid of balloons and such, one of the prettiest exhibitions of baseball this season was pulled off Friday evening between the Baptist and First Presbyterians and it was the first to travel more than the set number of seven innings.

After eight sessions had gone to the bad the score stood 2 to 2. Darkness put an end to further trouble, or they might have been playing yet.

When the teams lined up on the field it looked like a battle to death. There was something in the ozone which foretold a bitter struggle. The First Presbyterians, first at bat scored one. Dunlap contracted a walk. He stole second and waited until Wagner singled then chased the rest of the distance. In the first part of the seventh the Presbyterians scored another. Berry got safe on an error. "Doc" Smith singled. And then Smith Frye managed to pick one out for one base bringing around Berry.

In the seventh with one out "Red" Allshouse for the Baptists with a bat nearly as big as himself, walked to the plate and smote a terror to right middle field. He didn't stop until he got to second base. Lindsay came up and three bases were his record, scoring Allshouse. Morris struck out and Haywood singled scoring Lindsay. In the eighth the Presbyterians went out in one, two, three order, but the Baptists managed to get two men on bases. But the hits were not forthcoming. Score:

A FREE SHOW IN CHARLEROI

They Drew Quite a Crowd Last Night---Free Performance Will be Given Nightly

The Quaker Doctors whose shows created so much excitement in Uniontown and Brownsville for two months opened their stay in Charleroi last night on the vacant lot on McKean avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets. Quite a large crowd turned out, though these people came here without any advertising. The show which was given by four people was very good in its way, consisting of music, singing and comedy, principally. The Quaker said he would probably be with us for two or three weeks and if last night's show is a sample of their usual entertainment, every one can attend and they ought to become very popular as the performance, what there is of it, was first class.

use them, and the working class must, therefore, own them.

"This is the revolutionary demand of the Socialist movement. The propaganda is one of education and is perfectly orderly and peaceable. The workers must be taught to unite and vote together as a class in support of the Socialist party, the party that represents them as a class, and when they do this the government will pass into their hands and capitalism will fail to rise no more; private ownership and production for profit to production for use the wage system will disappear, and with it the ignorance and poverty, misery and crime that wage slavery breeds; the working class will stand forth triumphant and free, and a new era will dawn in human progress and in the civilization of mankind. In the instance of the present Pennsylvania Railroad strike, should there be better organization as the Socialist party wants and is working for the strike would not last 15 minutes, and the workers would be victorious."

Previous to Mr. Debs' address, George D. Brewer of the Appeal to Reason staff, made an address of about ten minutes.

BASEBALL BINGLES

Ump Mathias couldn't stand for Michiner's desire to hug the plate

Berry—not the immortal but beaten William H—is now the coach of the First Presbyterians. He holds down the bunch well.

John McIlvaine the Baptist coach and player, hasn't much trouble qualifying as the star first baseman of the league.

McGowan looks familiar at the first getting off place, but queer in a Presbyterian uniform.

Red Andy Allshouse has the rep of one of the headiest pitchers in the league. He has demonstrated his right to the title.

"Dutch" Wagner and "Doc" Smith rank among the Presbyterians chief swatters.

Lindsay the Baptist shortstop, is getting everything that comes his way. Billy Kuhn had better look close to maintain his laurels.

Considerable criticism was indulged in by those who had put up their hard earned coin to witness a base ball contest at the failure of the captain of the Christians to replace Kearns when the Catholice got after him in the game Thursday night, which they did in no uncertain manner.

Every game played in the Church League should be a contest from start to finish, in justice to those who pay the price of admission, and for the best interests of all concerned.

The boys representing Father Fries' parish cavorted around the bases like wild Indians Thursday night. Catcher Bultez' throwing had no terror for them. They pilfered 13 bases. Guess this will stand as a record for a few days.

Buchanan had Vernom on his staff all right in the game Thursday night. How the doughty first baseman did bend his athletic form reaching for those dinky outcurves.

Possibly it might be better for the umpire-in-chief to call balls and strikes from behind the plate. This would tend to do away with much criticism.

Large Audience Listens to Lecture by Noted Leader

RAN ONCE FOR PRESIDENT

Boefore an audience that filled Doyle theatre, Eugene V. Debs, of Indiana, who made the race for President of the United States on the Socialist ticket the last Presidential election, lectured Friday evening. His subject was "Socialism and Revolution." Composed largely of people of the working class, the audience received his address with enthusiasm. Applause was frequent.

Mr. Debs was introduced by Louis Goaziou, editor of L'Union Travelleur When introduced he lost no time in piercing the core of his subject. He has a peculiar style of oratory. As tall as Lincoln and having a frame which somewhat resembles him, he made a good appearance. He said in part:

"These are stirring days for living men. The day of crises is drawing near. Socialists are doing all they can to prepare the people for it.

"Classes and class rule and their attendant progress and poverty, money and misery, turmoil and strife, are inherent in the capitalist system. Why? Simply because one set of men owns the tools with which wealth is produced, while another set uses them, and there is an irrepressible conflict over the division of the product. The capitalist owns the tools he does not use; the worker uses the tools he does not own. The capitalist system is no longer adapted to the needs of modern society.

"Steadily the number of class conscious toilers is increasing and higher and higher rises the tide that is to sweep away the barriers of progress and civilization.

"Let others talk about the tariff and finance—the enlightened workers demand the ownership of the tools of industry and they are building up the Socialist party as a means of getting them.

"The [illegible] made the tools; the [illegible]ass alone can

VESTA NO 1 MINE NEARLY WORKED OUT

Was Biggest Workings Along the River Ten Years Ago

EFFECT ON CHARLEROI

The Roscoe Ledger states that the Vesta No 1 mine at Vesta has almost finished up their coal at that place, and from present indications there will not be much more done there. It means that a number of men who have had employment at this mine will have to soon seek work elsewhere Charleroi business men will probably be affected more than any other, as the Vesta people did a great deal of their buying at Charleroi.

Ten years aga Vesta No 1 was the largest mine along the river, employing at one time in the neighborhood of 1,000 men. As the mine was connected by trolley with Charleroi pay day there meant a big volume of business to the Magic City. Gradually the mine was worked out, and California now is the biggest scene of operation of the Vesta Coal company.

California Has Curfew.

An ordinance has been recently passed by the borough council of California making it unlawful for all children under 16 years of age to be on the streets alone after 9 o'clock during June, July and August and after 8 o'clock during the rest of the year. The ordinance will go into effect June 1.

PEDDLER GETS INTO TROUBLE

Tries to Sell Without License and Gets in Bad Predicament

An Italian peddlar, who said he was from New York City, got a bushel of trouble Friday through his over desire to peddle in the borough without a license. Leaving his peddler's bag at a barber shop he started out with a few pieces wrapped in a paper. Before he had gone very far he was apprehended by Chief of Police Albright and taken to the police station. He said he didn't have a cent but when searched $23.25 came to light. At a hearing later before Burgess George W. Risbeck he plead guilty and was fined $5.00 and costs.

Assemlyman Feeney Made Record in Lower House

WORKED FOR MINE BILL

Assemblyman William Feeney has arrived in town for Harrisburg, where the Legislative session adjourned Thursday. Mr. Feeney is looking well and is glad to get home after the strenuous session. For a new man he made them all sit up and take notice, and as a representative of the labor and mining interests he figured prominently, and was the acknowledged leader on the floor in that respect.

Mr. Feeney made a gallant effort to get his mine certificate bill through and regrets that it was finally killed in the Senate. He also made a fight against the passage of the mine code, which he, as well as the miners in the bituminous field, together with the mine inspectors and fire bosses, considered were inimcal to the interests of the workers. This was passed, as Mr. Feeney expresses it, "in orders"

In addition to these labor measures Mr. Feeney was prominent in other legislative matters, and made a consistent and conscientious effort to work for the interests of his constituents and the Commonwealth at large. He states that he is grateful for the assistance Governor Tener gave him in getting his mine certificate bill to receive the consideration it did.

MUCH WORK AHEAD FOR GOVERNOR

Over 700 Measures to Pass on Within Next Thirty Days

GOES ON BRIEF VACATION

Governor Tener left Harisburg Friday to spend a few days in Maryland and no bills will be acted upon before Monday. The Governor has 762 bills to dispose of within the next 30 days and plans to begin work the next week. The chairman of the Senate and House Appropriations Committees and a number of legislators will be at Harrisburg at various times during the next two weeks to consult with him, but it is likely he will not require the whole 30 days to clear his desk.

Most of the State officials left Harrisburg Friday to gain a few day's rest after the strenuous close of the Legislature, when bills affecting almost every one of the departments were acted upon. The legislators have gone to their homes with a few exceptions and the State Capitol is in the hands of a force of cleaners and repairmen who are going over all furniture in the legislative halls an committee rooms preparatory to closing up most of the rooms.

Special Lutheran Services.

There will be special services and special music at the 11 o'clock service tomorrow morning in the Christ Lutheran church. It is the second anniversary of the dedication of their beautiful church, and also the confirmation of a class of catecumens. The class will enter the church in a processional, the sermon will be addressed especially to these young people It is a day which attracts considerable attention. The public will be welcomed to this special day

SOCIALISM.

In these days of popular discontent, business depression and insurgency the doctrine of Socialism offers many attractions to those on whom the ills and misfortunes of life press heavily Add to this the corporate and capitalistic abuses that have prevailed in this era of frenzied finance, and the theory of succor for the weak, protection for the helpless, and restriction for the strong is attractive to thousands who toil hopelessly for others with no pleasure in the present or hope in the future. The presence in Charleroi last night of Eugene V. Debs, one of the great leaders of the propaganda, is evidence that Socialism has some most able, sincere and active exponents.

Delightful as Socialism is in theory, it is impossible to carry it out to the extreme in practice The nearest approach to an application of its principles is the democracy which is made possible by the constitution of the United States. This is government by the people, protection for the weak and opportunity for all. The condition that would hamper and restrain the free and progressive development of every faculty with which the Creator has endowed mankind, and deny the right of the survival of the fittest is an attempt to maintain a dead level of condition, is at variance with the great plan of evolution, the destiny of the universe.

Corporate aggression and capitalistic abuses have done much to prevert the true principals of Democracy. They have violated in many instances their duties and responsibilities to the State, which is the people. This has aroused the conflict of the masses against the classes, as it is called, and the adjustment of this condition is one of the economic problems of the day. The question is a complex one, and in all probability will never be solved to the degree that will maintain an Utopian condition for all. The plan that would take away the incentive for thrift, industry, ambition and the ascendary of the master mind is as impossible as to atempt to change the law of gravitation.

CUTTING OFF ONE GRAFT.

Both branches of the Legislature passed the measure making it a penal offense for any man in the employ of a corporation, firm or individual to receive any valuable consideration for securing employment for an applicant seeking service under the same employer as the individual receiving the consideration. Speaking of this the Philadelphia Press says:

New York and Massachusetts have such laws and convictions have been had under both A like statute exists in Great Britain. A royal Parliamentary commission took ample evidence in England to show that this offense was rife there, probably more rife than in this country, because the competition for eligible places is more severe.

But this particular form of graft exists in all countries where industry becomes complex. establishments large and employes are necessarily selected by subordinates. It is particularly true that immigrants speaking English imperfectly or not at all, seeking the opportunity to work not infrequently find themselves compelled to pay some one something to get their names on a pay-roll.

This particularly mean and disreputable form of graft will, when this bill is signed, render the grafter liable to indictment, trial, conviction and punishment. This practice richly deserves to be made a penitentiary offense It betrays both employer and employed, it robs the weak and ignorant, and it demoralizes discipline It is injurious to all concerned. It is not common. It rarely occurs, never in establishments vigilantly and efficiently managed; but there is just enough of it to make needful the enactment of the salutary statute.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

The average business man, says Dr. Holmes, violates every law of health and hygiene. He works too long, eats too much or too little, and the wrong food at the wrong time; doesn't sleep enough, wears the wrong sort of clothing, doesn't take enough exercise and drinks too many cocktails and smokes too many cigars. Worst of all he carries his business home with him, when it should be locked up in his desk. Dr. Holmes advocates an eight hour day for the business man.

Eggs or fish, with fruit and cereal, should constitute the business man's breakfast, says Dr. Holmes. Luncheon should consist of a substantial meat dish and it should be eaten slowly. Pie and sweets are tabooed. It is a mistake, declares the doctor, to go without luncheon or breakfast and make up for it at dinner time. Most men eat too much dinner.

The well known "tired business man," who in addition to his other troubles has to bear the responsibility for most of the alleged musical so-called comedies that are foisted upon the public, needs no longer be tired if he will follow the simple rules laid down by Dr. John F. Holmes, who recently took over the old Fordham hospital in New York and opened it as a general hospital. The novel feature of the new institution is a public course in hygiene for office men. According to the doctor, the ideal business day for the average business man would be something like this:

6 30 A. M.—Get up.
7:00 A. M.—Eat substantial breakfast.
8:00 A M—Begin work.
Noon—Eat substantial luncheon.
1:00 P. M. —Take a half hour walk.
1:30 P M.—Return to work.
5:30 P. M.—Take another half hour walk
7:00 P M.—Plain but substantial dinner.
7:00 P. M.—Go to bed.

Women dress more sensibly than men during the hot summer months, asserts Dr. Holmes. Woolen suits should not be worn during hot weather. A linen suit, negligee shirt and soft collar will enable a man to work better and feel better.

AMONG THE THEATRES

The Palace—Charleroi.

A photoplay at the Palace Theatre this week that revealed a most pathetic sentiment was an Edison film entitled "In the Baggage Coach Ahead." The story was that of the young man riding in a Pullman car trying to comfort a baby that he has in charge. When the passengers inquire why he doesn't take the baby to its mother he sorrowfully informs them that she is in the baggage coach ahead—dead. Then the sorrowful story is unfolded, the happpy wooing and marriage, the birth of the babe and the death of the young mother. It was a most realistic creation and the subject brought tears to the many eyes, although it was not in the least harowing. "Napoleon in 1814" was another realistic film that pictured the horrors of war and the conscription that desolated many continental homes during the Napoleonic wars. "Sunshine and Shadow" was a graphic, but pretty story of slavery in the old south. Song features this week were "Lover's Leap" and "For All Eternity" by John Evans, while a pretty illustrated song by Louis Brusa was "When They Gather the Sheaves."

The Grand—Pittsburg.

The Harry Davis Stock Players are to begin their summer season at the Grand Opera House next week, where they will inaugurate their midsummer reign at that spacious and cool playhouse with the delightful comedy, "At The White Horse Tavern," which would seem to be an ideal bill for this event. Two charming romances run through these various scenes in a double series of amusing episodes. One love romance is that between a young Berlin lawyer and the daughter of the irascible old inventor whom he has fought and defeated in the courts It is plain that the course of thir true love does not run smoothly, especially as they all get lodged under the same roof of the White Horse Tavern. The other courtship is that between the bright and cheerful hostess of the Inn, Josepha, a true maid of the Tyrol and her lovelorn head-waiter, Leopold who is exteremely jealous of all he favorite guests and whose life is made miserable by the coquettry and charm

These two roles of Josepha and Leopold will be the last characters in which Mary Hall and Albert Morrison are to be seen by their host of admirers. Miss Hall will take her farewell in this character of Josepha in which Anne Sutherland scored such a big hit in the original New York production, while Albert Morrison's goodbye will be said in the rich comedy of the head-waiter of the little tavern around which revolves all the charming fun of this idyllic and humorous play, which Sydney Rosenfeld adapted so skillfully from the original German drama by Blumenthal and Kadelburg.

Charleroi People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

PATTI STOOD PAT.

The Diva Wouldn't Cut Her Rates, but Suggested an Alternative.

Patti once was waited upon at her hotel by a famous minstrel magnate, Colonel J. H. Haverly, whose ambition had been aroused to secure the diva for a concert tour under his direction. Madame received him most graciously, and the two began discussing the details.

"May I ask your terms for fifty nights, Mme. Patti?" Haverly asked.

"For concert or for opera?" the diva asked.

"For concert," Haverly replied.

"Four thousand a night, or $200,000 for fifty nights, one-half to be deposited on signing the contract," was Patti's deliberate response.

Haverly tried to appear composed, but it was too much of an effort.

"Two hundred thousand for fifty nights' Heavens, madame, that is just four times as much as we pay our president of the United States!" he cried

"Well," the divine one answered, "why don't you get the president to sing for you?"

Haverly fled.—Robert Grau in Musical America.

A Man Who Knew Everything.

Thiers, the French statesman, was a victim of many whimsies. None had stronger hold on him, says Mgr. Gabriel Hanotaux in "Contemporary France," than his desire to get everybody to recognize his universal competency.

Of an applicant for the post of director at the Sevres manufactory Thiers said:

"He is no more made for that part than I for"—and then he stopped.

"Ah, oh! M. Thiers," said his interlocutor, "you find it hard to say what you could not do."

"That's the truth! That's the truth!" cried the statesman gleefully.

One day Thiers said, speaking of a man who had been raised to a high function:

"He is no more suited for that office than I am to be a druggist. And yet," he added, catching himself up, "I do know chemistry!"

Chinese Way of Trapping Eagles.

Every year thousands of Chinese go into Mongolia to catch eagles, the feathers of which are used for fans. They employ tame eagles, which they carry on their shoulders, and at certain spots nests are arranged, within which are placed large quantities of kenyu, or small fishes. Soon other eagles join the tame ones, and the net is raised by hidden trappers some 500 yards away. But a small portion of the feathers are used for the fans, as only the largest are of use.—Chicago Tribune.

BAPTISTS AND PRESBYTERIANS PLAY TO DRAW

Best Exhibition of the Season and First Extra Session Affair

HITS NOT PROMISCUOUS

Absolutely devoid of balloons and such, one of the prettiest exhibitions of baseball this season was pulled off Friday evening between the Baptist and First Presbyterians and it was the first to travel more than the set number of seven innings.

After eight sessions had gone to the bad the score stood 2 to 2. Darkness put an end to further trouble, or they might have been playing yet.

When the teams lined up on the field it looked like a battle to death. There was something in the ozone which foretold a bitter struggle. The First Presbyterians, first at bat scored one. Dunlap contracted a walk. He stole second and waited until Wagner singled then chased the rest of the distance. In the first part of the seventh the Presbyterians scored another. Berry got safe on an error. "Doc" Smith singled. And then Smith Frye managed to pick one out for one base bringing around Berry.

In the seventh with one out "Red" Allshouse for the Baptists with a bat nearly as big as himself, walked to the plate and smote a terror to right middle field. He didn't stop until he got to second base. Lindsay came up and three bases were his record, scoring Allshouse. Morris struck out and Haywood singled scoring Lindsay. In the eighth the Presbyterians went out in one, two, three order, but the Baptists managed to get two men on bases. But the hits were not forthcoming. Score:

A FREE SHOW NIGHTLY

They Drew Quite a Crowd Last Night---Free Performance Will be Given Nightly

The Quaker Doctors whose shows created so much excitement in Uniontown and Brownsville for two months opened their stay in Charleroi last night on the vacant lot on McKean avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets. Quite a large crowd turned out, though these people came here without any advertising. The show which was given by four people was very good in its way, consisting of music, singing and comedy, principally. The Quaker said he would probably be with us for two or three weeks and if last night's show is a sample of their usual entertainment, every one can attend and they ought to become very popular as the performance, what there is of it, was first class.

use them, and the working class must, therefore, own them.

"This is the revolutionary demand of the Socialist movement. The propaganda is one of education and is peaceful, orderly and practical. The workers must be taught to unite and vote together as a class in support of the Socialist party, the party that represents them as a class, and when they do this the government will pass into their hands and capitalism will fail to rise no more; private ownership, and production for profit to production for use the wage system will disappear, and with it the ignorance and poverty, misery and crime that wage slavery breeds; the working class will stand forth triumphant and free, and a new era will dawn in human progress and in the civilization of mankind. In the instance of the present Pennsylvania Railroad strike, should there be better organization as the Socialist party wants and is working for the strike would not last 15 minutes, and the workers would be victorious."

Previous to Mr. Debs' address, George D. Brewer of the Appeal to Reason staff, made an address of about ten minutes.

Not an Invitation.

BASEBALL BINGLES

Ump Mathias couldn't stand for Michiner's desire to hug the plate

* * *

Berry—not the immortal but beaten William H.—is now the coach of the First Presbyterians. He holds down the bench well.

John McIlvaine the Baptist coach and player, hasn't much trouble qualifying as the star first baseman of the league.

McGowan looks familiar at the first getting off place, but queer in a Presbyterian uniform.

Red Andy Allshouse has the rep of one of the headiest pitchers in the league. He has demonstrated his right to the title.

"Dutch" Wagner and "Doc" Smith rank among the Presbyterians chief swatters.

Lindsay the Baptist shortstop, is getting everything that comes his way. Billy Kuhn had better look close to maintain his laurels.

Considerable criticism was indulged in by those who had put up their hard earned coin to witness a base ball contest at the failure of the captain of the Christians to replace Kearns when the Catholice got after him in the game Thursday night, which they did in no uncertain manner.

Every game played in the Church League should be a contest from start to finish, in justice to those who pay the price of admission, and for the best interests of all concerned.

The boys representing Father Fries' parish cavorted around the bases like wild Indians Thursday night. Catcher Bultez' throwing had no terror for them. They pilfered 13 bases. Guess this will stand as a record for a few days.

Buchanan had Vernon on his staff all right in the game Thursday night. How the doughty first baseman did bend his athletic form reaching for those dinky outcurves.

Possibly it might be better for the umpire-in-chief to call balls and strikes from behind the plate. This would tend to do away with much criticism.
